GREETING FROM THE PRESIDENT OF EAAERE

Dear Colleagues,

It is a great honor and pleasure to give you a welcoming message at the 5th Annual Congress of the East Asian Association of Environmental and Resource Economics (EAAERE) held in Academia Sinica, Taipei, Taiwan. I am glad to see some of you again, since I met you both in the 4th congress held in Pusan, Korea and the Inter-congress conference held in Jakarta, Indonesia.

First of all, I would like to give my gratitude to many people for making this 5th Congress of EAAERE successful. Above all, I appreciate the Chair of Local Organizing Committee (LOC), the former president of EAAERE, Dr. Daigee Shaw, and the co-chairs of Scientific Committee and Program Committee, professors Hsiao-Chi Chen and Orapan Nabangchang, and the members of all three committees, for their sacrificing effort with great management capability. I also feel a deep appreciation to three keynote speakers, Professors Robert O. Mendelsohn, Paul Ekins and Jason Shogren for sharing their busy time with us to give their keen insight into the issues of the environmental and energy economics. Finally, I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all participants of this 5th Congress. I do not think we are able to guarantee this 5th Congress as a success without your active participation.

By participating in all the congresses and the Inter-congress conference held by EAAERE, our association has made the fast advancement in size and quality in a short period of time. This fast growth of EAAERE would be proved in this Taipei Congress. In this 5th Congress, about 150 participants from 14 countries are supposed to present over 130 high quality papers and posters. The Environmental Economics and Policy Studies (EEPS), EAAERE's official journal, is now recognized as one of the high quality journals in the field of environmental and resource economics. In addition, EAAERE has become the co-host of the WCERE 2018 with the Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (AERE) and the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (EAERE). EAAERE members will take part in various committees with the same right as the AERE and EAERE. And EAAERE members will also have the benefit of paying the special discount registration fee for the WCERE 2018, which only the members of AERE and EAAERE becomes and is recognized as a real global association.

All these achievements of EAAERE could not have been accomplished in such a short period of time without you, the members of EAAERE. Therefore, I express my sincere appreciation to all of you for your interest and participation in the various activities of EAAERE once more.

As all of us know, East Asia is one of the most important regions in the world with respect to environment and resource problems as well as poverty. This region therefore would be the best place for practicing the main theme of the 5th Congress of the EAAERE, "Green Economy and Sustainable Development." The environmental and resource economists' role to achieve the sustainable development would be very important in the sense that the current development strategies of most countries in this East Asian region are biased toward quantity-oriented economic growth rather than the sustainability. We, as the environmental and resource economists, are responsible for helping solve these problems by exploring new theories, finding facts, and identifying the problems and applying the existing theories to the real world problems in this region. In this regard, this EAAERE Congress is the important place to carry our mission since in this congress we will discuss these problems of environment and resource with our theoretical and empirical research results and derive excellent policy implications for achieving the green economy and the sustainable development. I hope we will have heated discussions and deduce fruitful results from the discussions during this congress. And also, I hope all participants have a comfortable stay and enjoy the beautiful city of Taipei, Taiwan.

> Il Chung Kim President of EAAERE

GREETING FROM

THE LOCAL ORGANIZING COMMITTEE OF EAAERE

Good morning! Distinguished guests, ladies and gentlemen.

It's my great pleasure to welcome you and thank you for being with us in the 5th EAAERE Congress. On behalf of the LOC, I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all of you coming from all over the world to attend the 5th EAAERE Congress. I also wish to extend my most cordial greetings to our distinguished keynote speakers, Professors Paul Ekins from UCL, Robert Mendelsohn from Yale and Jason Shogren from Wyoming, and all participants of the Congress. I also wish to express my deepest gratitude to our co-organizers and co-hosts, the Institute of Economics in Academia Sinica, the Department of Economics at National Taipei University, the Taiwan Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (TAERE), and the Institute of Nuclear Energy Research for their wholehearted support. Finally, I would like to especially say thank you to our hardworking staff and team members of the Local Organizing Committee and Program Committee. Without your devoted effort in the past year, this Congress cannot come true.

The theme of this Congress is "Green Economy and Sustainable Development." In our call-for-papers, we have put forward several questions to be tackled for a successful transition from the current brown economy to a green one. It is worthwhile to repeat the questions here: what economic instruments could internalize intergenerational externalities, what policies could avoid and/or improve intergenerational inequalities, what macroeconomic policies could promote a green economy, what types of policy instruments could be used to green industries, what stimulus programs could induce higher levels of innovation needed for a green economy, what international trade policies could spur the development of a green economy, etc.

This Congress will give us an excellent opportunity to take stock of the past development of researches on sustainable development, green growth, green economy, environmental protection, resource conservation, etc and assess how they progress in terms of how they can aid and foster a sustainable and green economy.

And finally, on behalf of the LOC, I wish all participants a fruitful exchange at the conference and a pleasant stay in Taiwan.

Thank you.

Daigee Shaw Chair, Local Organizing Committee

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Keynote Speech I Thursday, August 6, 2015 11:25 – 12:25

Robert O. Mendelsohn Edwin Weyerhaeuser Davis Professor of Forest Policy Yale University

Climate Change: Options and Policy Implications

The focus of Professor Robert O. Mendelsohn's research has been the valuation of the environment. He has developed methods to value natural ecosystems including coral reefs, old-growth forests, non-timber forest products, ecotourism, and outdoor recreation. He has also developed methods to value pollution including emissions of criteria pollutants (such as particulates and sulfur dioxide) and hazardous waste sites. His most recent work values the impacts of greenhouse gases, including the effects of climate change on agriculture, forests, water resources, energy, and coasts. This research carefully integrates adaptation into impact assessment and has recently been extended to developing countries around the world. He has also been involved in studies of nonrenewable resources, forest management, and specifically carbon sequestration in forests. Professor Mendelsohn has written over one hundred peer-reviewed articles and edited six books. Keynote Speech II Thursday, August 6, 2015 16:40 – 17:40

Paul Ekins University College London

Global Energy: Options and Implications

Professor Paul Ekins' academic work focuses on the conditions and policies for achieving an environmentally sustainable economy, and he is an authority on a number of areas of energy-environment-economy (E3) interaction and environmental policy, includina: sustainable development assessment methodologies; resource productivity; sustainable energy use; E3 modelling and scenarios: the adjustment of national accounts to take account of environmental impacts: environmental economic instruments and ecological tax reform: sustainable consumption; and environment and trade. He is the author of numerous papers, book-chapters and articles in a wide range of journals, and has written or edited twelve books. Two of his most recent books of which he is editor or co-editor are Environmental Tax Reform: a Policy for Green Growth (Oxford University Press, Oxford); and Energy 2050: the Transition to a Secure, Low-Carbon Energy System for the UK (Earthscan, London). In 2015 he was awarded an OBE in the UK's New Year's Honours List for services to environmental policy.

Keynote Speech III

Friday, August 7, 2015 11:15 – 12:15

Jason F. Shogren

Stroock Professor of Natural Resource Conservation and Management University of Wyoming

Global Environmental Risks - Some Observations on the Economics of Pandemics

Professor Jason F. Shogren has background and research interests that include risk, experimental methods, endangered species, invasive species, climate change, environmental federalism, non-market valuation, environmental liability; agricultural management, forest management, energy, health, political economy, regulation, trade, and paleoeconomics. He has published more than 200 articles in the past 20 years, in a broad range of areas relevant to environmental and resource economics. Additionally, he served as co-editor of Resource and Energy Economics, and editor-in-chief of Elsevier's online Encyclopedia of Resource, Energy and Environmental Economics. He has been named a fellow of the Association of Environmental and Resource Economists (AERE) in 2014 to recognize his outstanding professional contributions and demonstrated leadership in the field of environmental economics.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONFERENCE PARTICIPANTS

PARALLEL SESSIONS

Equipment and Time Frame

A computer (MS Windows environment) will be available in each room. Session participants can use either PowerPoint (.ppt or .pptx) or Portable Document Format (.pdf) for their presentations. Conference staffs will be happy to assist in resolving any technical issues. However, connecting personal laptops is not encouraged. The time available for each paper is 30 minutes, including 20 minutes for presentation, 5 minutes for discussant's comments, and 5 minutes for the authors' responses and a general discussion.

Presenters and Discussants

Presenters and discussants ought to finish uploading their files to the computers 10 minutes prior to the beginning of a session. Common file names such as EAAERE or 2015 should not be used to avoid overwriting other people's presentation. Discussants are expected to provide a brief and focused comment. Any detailed suggestions can be passed on to the presenters after the session, in written form if preferred.

Chairs

Chairs are invited to come to the room 10 minutes prior to the beginning of a session. They will introduce the session and speakers, make sure the presentation proceed as scheduled, and guide the discussion from the floor following paper presentation. In each session, the chair is programmed to be the presenter of the last paper. In case the scheduled chair does not attend, the presenter of the session's actual last paper is expected to take the role of chair.

POSTER SESSIONS

Equipment and Time Frame

The panel size for a poster stand is 1m x 1m (or apron. 3ft by 3 ft). The Poster area is located at the 4th floor of the Humanities and Social Sciences Building (HSSB) of Academia Sinica. Conference staffs and the necessary tools and materials (tapes, pins, scissors, etc.) will be ready to help authors hang their posters on the panel. The time for oral presentation of each poster is 5 minutes. Nevertheless, all posters will be exhibited throughout the entire duration of the Conference.

Presenters

Presenters should first check the number of your poster stand from the list located in the poster area, and display the poster at your earliest convenience. For the presentation, a session chair will be responsible to keep the time and move the audience smoothly from poster to poster. Presenters are encouraged to stay next to their posters long enough to answer questions and interact with the audience after the oral report.
